Become a URO Peer Research Contact!

Undergraduate student researchers from all disciplines are invited to become Peer Research Contacts (PRC).

Peer Research Contacts must be currently or have already been involved in research or creative activity at OSU, and must be graduating after Spring 2015. PRCs will be available to answer questions via email from interested undergraduate students, and provide guidance on how to get involved in undergraduate research. Peer Research Contacts will also be called on to volunteer for student research panels and/or do outreach with student groups. Being a PRC is not time consuming, but requires a passion for research and helping others.

Qualified undergraduate researchers will be asked to schedule a brief orientation/meeting in January to begin volunteering as a Peer Research Contact.

Interested students should email Helene Cweren at Cweren.1@osu.edu by Friday, December 5, briefly describing your undergraduate research experience at OSU and your reasons for wanting to be a URO Peer Research Contact. Please also include your availability to meet for 30 minutes during the weeks of January 19 or January 26.

For more information, contact Helene at Cweren.1@osu.edu or 688-4910.
