ENR 3323

Forest Biometrics
Spring 2021 (full term)
3 credit hours

COURSE OVERVIEW-DESCRIPTION

This course is a professional practice course and will give the student knowledge of forest measurements as well as sampling methods used in the profession of forestry. These measurements will build upon themselves and be presented from those for individual trees to stand-level variables. The main focus of this course will be on measurements related to forest resources and management, including the techniques used in determining the volume and quality of logs, trees, and stands of trees

The basic tenets of sampling designs and statistical approaches will be explored during the semester. It focuses on the statistics and theory of sampling forest resources for management, including topics such as simple random sampling, stratified random sampling, ratio estimation, and multiphase sampling. The course will also cover sampling designs for specialty forest products, fuels management, and rare populations. A major objective of the course is not only for students to learn the basics of sampling design, but to instill the importance of appropriate designs and what they mean for the standard error of the mean.

- Students will be able to communicate the results of the above skills in written and tabular fashion.
- Students will be integrating technologies and techniques gained from previous classes to meet these learning outcomes.

Course Mode

Mode of delivery: This lecture portion of this course is in person. Lecture is from 10:20-11:15 am W and F in Kottman 370. Lab is from 1:00 to 5:00 pm in Kottman 460 unless otherwise specified. Please see modules for further details.

Lab will be held online as well as at Watterman Woods located on the NW corner Waterman Farm (NW corner of the intersection of Lane and Kenny). Other locations will be specified. You may drive yourself or you can ride the vans provided. The in person lab will require you to follow ALL covid-9 regulations and requirements set out by the University.

Pace of online activities: This course is divided into weekly modules that will be released as we go. Assignments will be given in lecture with no more than one a week assigned. Each and every lab will have an assignment due before the next lab period. It may be necessary to push back due dates which will cause two (or more) assignments due in one week.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average.

Attendance and participation requirements: Attendance is necessary as well as participation in lecture in order to achieve the specific learning outcomes. Attendance will not be recorded but on low attendance days there will be quizzes given.

- Participating in online activities for attendance:
You will be expected to be at class during lecture. In the case you are not able to make lecture, please email or text the instructor ahead of time. This is a professional practice class and you should think of this as alerting your supervisor to missing a day of work.

- Lecture Format: Notes on the board.
- Office hours:
- Lab Attendance is Mandatory: Missing lab without prior notice to the instructor will result in a 25% deduction. You are responsible to make up the lab activities you miss. This will be very difficult. Please prioritize attendance at lab. However, due to these extraordinary times, accommodations will be made for covid-9 related absences as well as all other excused absences. Keeping our community well is the top priority with lab attendance being a close second.

Descriptions of major course assignments

Description: Deliverables will be described when assigned. This is a professional practice class and most assignments will be metered out as if a task given in the working setting. You will be expected to create a deliverable based upon the objective assigned. Sometimes details will be minimal, but you are allowed to ask many questions upon arriving to your submission. This is designed to mimic duties metered out in a work setting. Sometimes your supervisor will not be sure of what exactly they want but will want you to take it upon yourself to create a solution worthy of a raise.

Lab assignments will be required to be submitted in the appropriate format. Please see Carmen for the lab report template.

Academic integrity and collaboration: You will be in groups in lab and must learn to work with all types of personalities. These will change periodically throughout the semester. You will be working on assignments and deliverables for your assignments together, but there will always be parts of the assignment which will be required to be your own. See academic integrity below. When in doubt, ask. If done by text or email, we will have a written indisputable record of the solution.

Exams: All exams will be in person with an optional take home component and will be open book. They will be time limited. Don't fool yourself, studying will help you with time management on the exam. The notes and book should help you remember a few forgotten points, not provide the direction for each question. If you look up each question you will not have enough time to complete the exams. These will be similar to the exams that have been given in class pre-covid-9.

Late assignments

Late submissions will be penalize 10% perday. Please refer to Carmen for due dates.

Grading scale

93–100: A
 90–92.9: A-

Instructor feedback and response time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. (Remember that you can call 614-688-4357(HELP) at any time if you have a technical problem.)

- Grading and feedback: For large weekly assignments, you can generally expect feedback within 7 TO 14 days. Sometimes this is delayed mainly due to the cumbersome task of grading on CARMEN. If you feel that a late graded assignment affected your grade on a subsequent assignment, please contact me and I will adjust your grade accordingly if indeed this has happened. We are in this together and I pledge to work with you
- Email: I will reply to emails within 24 hours on days when class is in session at the university. IF NOT REWSPONSE PLEASE TEXT ME. But texting is a much better way to contact me 614-495-6738.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. A more conversational tone is fine for non-academic topics.

- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Academic integrity policy

See Descriptions of major course assignments, above, for my specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

Ohio State's academic integrity policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the university's Code of Student Conduct (studentconduct.osu.edu), and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the university's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the university or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the university's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

- Committee on Academic Misconduct web page (go.osu.edu/coam)
- Ten Suggestions for Preserving Academic Integrity (go.osu.edu/ten-suggestions)

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life Counseling and Consultation Services (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling (614) 292- 5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at (614) 292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Prevention Hotline at 1-(800)-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org.

David Wirt, wirt.9@osu.edu, is the CFAES embedded mental health counselor. He is available for new consultations and to establish routine care. To schedule with David, please call 614-292-5766. Students should mention their affiliation with CFAES when setting up a phone screening.

ACCESSIBILITY ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Requesting accommodations

The university strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. In light of the current pandemic, students seeking to request COVID-related accommodations may do so through the university's request process, managed by Student Life Disability Services. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS contact information: slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.
