THE INCIDENT QUALIFICATION CARD (RED CARD) AND PACK TEST

The Incident Qualification Card, commonly called a Red Card, is an accepted interagency certification that a person is qualified to do the required job when arriving on an incident.

The National Wildfire Coordinating Group sets minimum training, experience, and physical fitness standards for wildland fire positions. Incident Qualification Cards are issued to individuals who successfully complete the required training, experience, and work capacity test (also known as the pack test) by the firefighting agencies that are members of the National Wildfire Coordinating Group. You will be certified as a Firefighter Type 2 (FFT2).

The S-190 certificate issued after successful completion of the S-190 education component in this course, ENR 3335.01, serves as proof of training, so students should keep the certificates in their personal files. This certificate, along with the S-130 certificate acquired in ENR 3335.02, can be presented at federal and state agencies across the country as proof of training. Certificates expire after 5 years of inactivity.

All agencies and organizations will give you a pack test upon hire if being red card certified is a job requirement. While S-130/190 certificates are good for 5 years, the pack test is issued annually and at the time of hire.

POLICIES AND RESOURCES

COVID-19 Policies

It is required and expected that all students will adhere to and be compliant with the university's COVID-19 policies that are in place during the course. Non-compliance and non-adherence may result in a student's discipline based on university COVID policies of such matter. University COVID policies can change during a course, and students must remain compliant with those policy changes.

General Class Policies

This class is delivered in a face-to-face venue, and class attendance is required. All recorded lectures, PowerPoint slides and class materials will be available online through the Carmen website. Due to the nature of the course delivery, there will be no opportunities for make-up assignments. The only exceptions will be in extreme cases, as determined by instructors, and the instructors must be contacted ahead of time regarding the nature of the problem if at all possible. All personal information/situations will be kept extremely confidential. If you experience any problems or have any questions you should contact either Dr. Williams or Mr. Bowden at the contact information listed on the first page of this syllabus.

Many studies have been conducted to demonstrate a direct correlation with classroom attendance and a student's performance in the course. While attendance will not be recorded every class meeting, random attendance checks will be conducted. Continued absence will be noted, and a student's absenteeism will call into question that student's interest in the course and subject.

Academic Misconduct

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). If any academic conduct is suspected, the student will be contacted initially in confidentiality and presented evidence of said misconduct. The student will have the opportunity to rebut any evidence brought forward. If the case cannot be resolved, the information and evidence will be brought forward to the Committee on Academic Misconduct for appropriate resolution. For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct at <http://studentconduct.osu.edu>.

As it pertains to this particular course, if it is discovered that there is cheating taking place in regard to quizzes or exams, any remaining quizzes and exams will be conducted in class and proper disciplinary action will take place pertaining to the individual(s) in question.

Disabilities Statement

The university strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. In light of the current pandemic, students seeking to request COVID-related accommodations may do so through the university's request process, managed by Student Life Disability Services. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS contact information: slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

Grievances

According to University Policies, if you have a problem with this class, you should seek to resolve the grievance concerning a grade or academic practice by speaking first with the instructor or professor. Then, if necessary, take your case to the department chairperson, college dean or associate dean, and to the provost, in that order. Specific procedures are outlined in Faculty Rule 3335-7-23. Grievances against graduate, research, and teaching assistants should be submitted first to the supervising instructor, then to the chairperson of the assistant's department.

Counseling Services/Mental Health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life Counseling and Consultation Services (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling (614) 292- 5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at (614) 292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Prevention Hotline at 1-(800)-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org.

David Wirt, wirt.9@osu.edu, is the CFAES embedded mental health counselor. He is available for new consultations and to establish routine care. To schedule with David, please call 614-292-5766. Students should mention their affiliation with CFAES when setting up a phone screening.
