Course description

This course is an introduction to the basic elements of forestry, fisheries, and wildlife (FFW) ecology and management for majors in environment and natural resources. It provides students with a comprehensive and integrated introduction to the problems, concepts, and strategies that make these disciplines similar, as well as establishing important differences between them. This course has also been organized to provide an introduction to non-majors who may not have the opportunity to take further courses in these fields. Prereq: ENR 2100

This is a completely online course that will utilize multiple platforms supported by The Ohio State University. Course content, including lecture presentations and videos, will be delivered using Carmen, OSU’s learning management system. Carmen (https://carmen.osu.edu/) will also be used to complete quizzes, exams, and other assignments. Other resources, such as BuckeyeBox (https://box.osu.edu/) and the University Libraries, may also be used. This course is self-paced yet all course requirements must be completed during the semester of offering. All assignments, quizzes, and exams must be completed by the due date shown on the syllabus.

Course learning outcomes

After successful completion of ENR 3300, students will be able to:
• Define and identify the conservation and management goals associated with the fields of forestry, fisheries and wildlife.

• Understand basic ecological concepts as they relate and are applied to forestry, fisheries, and wildlife management and conservation.

• Understand how ecosystems function to support forestry, fisheries, and wildlife, and in turn, how forestry, fisheries, and wildlife support key ecosystem functions.

• Understand the structure and dynamics of populations and communities as they relate to sustaining resource production and conserving biodiversity.

• Describe how forestry, fisheries, and wildlife relate to and are influenced by anthropogenic use and drivers of environmental change.

Grading and faculty response

Grades
Your course grade will be evaluated on discussion board participation, two midterm exams, three quizzes, and a final exam.

Quizzes taken on CARMEN
Quiz questions may consist of true/false, multiple choice, short answer, and essay questions. All quizzes will be taken online using CARMEN. Quizzes will be open on Carmen for approximately 1 week and you can take the exam anytime during this period. You will be given 10 minutes to complete the quiz and you can take it as many times as you’d like while the quiz is open. If you fail to complete the quiz on Carmen before it closes you will earn a grade of 0%. You will NOT come to a classroom to take the quiz. Rather, you take the quiz from a location of your choosing that has Internet connection (e.g., dorm room, library). A significant number of quiz questions will come from material presented in lecture videos. Additional material will be drawn from the assigned readings and videos. Each student must complete the quiz on her or his own. You are NOT permitted to receive assistance from anyone else during the quiz. You are NOT permitted to take the quizzes as part of a group. You ARE permitted to use notes, slides, calculator, textbook, journal articles, books, and Internet during the quiz, but the amount of time allotted precludes this use. Additional details will be provided during the semester.

There are NO make-up quizzes.

Exams taken on CARMEN
Examinations may consist of true/false, multiple choice, short answer, and essay questions. All exams will be taken on-line using CARMEN. Exams will be open on Carmen for approximately 24 hours and you can take the exam anytime during these 24 hours. You will be given 60-100 minutes to complete the exam. You can only take exams ONCE. If you fail to complete the exam on Carmen before it closes you will earn a grade of 0%. You will NOT come to a classroom to take the exam. Rather, you take the exam from a location of your choosing that has Internet connection (e.g., dorm room, library). A significant number of exam questions will come from material presented in lecture videos. Additional material will be drawn from the assigned readings and videos. Each student must complete the exam on her or his own. You are NOT permitted to receive assistance from anyone else during the exam. You are NOT permitted to take the exams as part of a group. You ARE permitted to use notes, slides, calculator, textbook, journal articles, books, and Internet during the exam. Additional details will be provided during the semester.
There are NO make-up exams except for valid reasons (e.g., medical excuse). If you are sick, you MUST have a note signed by your medical doctor (i.e. a licensed physician) and dated the same day as the exam and excusing you from the 24-hour period that the exam is open. Otherwise, you will receive a zero on the exam. The instructor will determine if your excuse is valid. If you do NOT have a reasonable excuse for missing an exam then you will receive a ZERO for the exam. Approved make-up exams will consist of multiple choice, short-answer and essay questions.

Discussion Board Participation

Discussion Board prompts will be posted every other week and will be open for 7 days (Friday at 12:00a to the following Friday at 11:59p). There will be a total of 6 discussion board prompts during the semester. You will be required to participate in 5 of the 6 posts for the opportunity to earn full credit (9 points for each discussion board entry) with the option to participate in 6 of the 6 posts for extra credit.

Students are expected to do the following for each discussion board that they choose to participate in:

- Answer one of the questions/scenarios that I (Kim Winslow) pose for that prompt. AND 1 of the following:
  - Pose your own question in relation to the topic(s) addressed
  - Reply to a peer’s discussion post
  - Answer a second question/scenario that I post

Posts that are deemed inappropriate by me will receive a ZERO. The ZERO will count for one of the discussion board grades (meaning it cannot be dropped).

Late assignments
The penalty for late assignments is 10% of the assignment total per day. We will not extend deadlines for any reason. There should be extenuating circumstances for missing a scheduled exam. In these cases, early arrangements will need to be coordinated. See course schedule, below, for due dates.

Attendance, participation, and discussions

Student participation requirements
Because this is a distance-education course, it will be up to you to keep up with course material and engage with classmates. We have done our best to chart out your expected participation in order to successfully complete this course. The following is a summary of everyone's expected participation:

- Logging in: AT LEAST ONCE PER WEEK
  Be sure you are logging in to the course in Carmen each week, including weeks with holidays or weeks with minimal online course activity. (During most weeks you will probably log in many times.) If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with us as soon as possible.

- Office hours: OPTIONAL
  All live office hours are optional and will be conducted through CarmenConnect. If you are required to discuss an assignment with one of the instructors, please contact an instructor at the beginning of the week in order to schedule an appointment.

- Quizzes: ON CARMEN
  There will be 3 quizzes during the course that are meant to test your progress and prepare you for exam-style questions. These quizzes will be open for 1 week increments, and can be taken multiple times while open. In previous courses we have found that participation on quizzes positively affects a student’s overall class performance. Therefore, we encourage you to use these as tools to integrate overall comprehension.

- Exams: ON CARMEN
  Please know that 3 exams (two mid-term exams and one final) will serve as the bulk of your assessment in this course. They will only be open for 24-hour periods, so please plan accordingly. They are structured to test your comprehension and ability to apply course material.

- Discussion Boards: ON CARMEN
  We have found that student participation and engagement are important to your success in this course. To facilitate this, there will be a set of discussion board prompts throughout the course. You will be required to participate in 5 of these (out of 6 total offerings), with the option to participate in 6 for possible bonus points. The discussion board prompts will vary in format, but they will all attempt to apply concepts we are learning in the course that week, and encourage you to stretch your thinking.

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Informality (including an occasional emoticon) is fine for non-academic topics.
• Tone and civility: Let’s maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn’t always come across online.

• Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.)

• Back up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Other course policies

Academic integrity policy

Policies for this online course

- Quizzes and exams: You must complete the quizzes, midterms, and final exam yourself, without any external help or communication.

- Written assignments: Your written assignments, including discussion posts, should be your own original work. You are encouraged to ask a trusted person to proofread your assignments before you turn them in--but no one else should revise or rewrite your work.

- Reusing past work: In general, you are prohibited in university courses from turning in work from a past class to your current class, even if you modify it. If you want to build on past research or revisit a topic you’ve explored in previous courses, please discuss the situation with an instructor.

- Collaboration: The course includes many opportunities for informal collaboration with your classmates. While study groups are encouraged, remember that comparing answers on a quiz or exam is not permitted. If you’re unsure about a particular situation, please feel free just to ask ahead of time.

Ohio State’s academic integrity policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University’s Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University’s Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute “Academic Misconduct.”

The Ohio State University’s Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: “Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process.” Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University’s Code of Student Conduct is never considered an “excuse” for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Take care of yourself
A recent American College Health Survey found stress, sleep problems, anxiety, depression, interpersonal concerns, death of a significant other, and alcohol use among the top ten health impediments to academic performance. Students experiencing personal problems or situational crises during the quarter are encouraged to contact the OSU Counseling and Consultation Services (614-292-5766; www.ccs.osu.edu) for assistance, support, and advocacy.

Statement on Title IX
Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at http://titleix.osu.edu or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator, Kellie Brennan, at titleix@osu.edu
